

Data drives safety and savings

Data is powerful – if you can access it

HDVI empowers fleets to leverage their telematics data without the heavy lifting required to access and interpret it. Transforming your business becomes easy with data insights you can act on – making your fleet safer and driving down the cost of your premiums.

How it works

You own your data

We interpret the data

You take control

First and foremost, you own your data. Whether you provide the telematics or we do, the data belongs to you. We license the data from you to provide tools and insights to help make you successful.

While keeping fleet data private, HDVI's system analyzes the data and delivers actionable insights in the form of safety benchmarks, insurance ratings, driver scoring, and more.

Using your Fleet Dashboard to view your custom insights, you have the power to make more informed decisions about your business.

HDVI keeps fleet data secure

Your success is our only business

Our business is providing you insurance products and services – that's it. When we can identify trends in data, we can help you understand and address the risk, improve safety, and reduce your insurance costs.

We use best practices

We are committed to maintaining long-term, ongoing internal practices that will protect the security of customer information. HDVI is SOC-II Type 2 compliant and audited annually to ensure compliance standards are met.
